Eminent Attorney Joshua A. Quinones Joins Morris Polich & Purdy LLP

Los Angeles, CA --- Morris Polich & Purdy LLP (MPP), a highly acclaimed California and Nevada law firm, is pleased to announce that Joshua A. Quinones has joined the firm's Los Angeles office as a partner.

Joshua, whose practice is centered on product liability, transportation, construction site accidents, toxic tort, and general litigation matters, joins an outstanding team whose members are located in San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego, and Las Vegas.

Having handled many jury trials, Joshua tackles all aspects of litigation from start to finish, including complex scientific, technical and medical issues. He has defended numerous chemical manufacturers, product manufacturers and premises owners, as well as trucking entities and their drivers, with a growing emphasis on non-emergency medical transport vehicles. He has successfully defended dozens of chemical and product manufacturers against claims of allegedly defective design, manufacture and inadequacy of warnings. He has defended numerous HOAs and commercial property owners against habitability and environmental claims, including alleged exposures to mold, lead, asbestos and other toxic chemical exposures. Most of his cases involve allegations of terminal diseases, catastrophic injuries, brain injury, burns or wrongful death claims.

Joshua is a graduate of Loyola Law School with an undergraduate degree from Claremont McKenna College. He also has a Masters in International Management. Joshua is a member of the Los Angeles County Bar Association and Claims and Litigation Management. He was recognized by Pasadena Magazine as a top attorney in 2014 and 2015.

"We are extremely fortunate and excited to have Joshua Quinones join the team here at Morris Polich & Purdy," says Managing Partner Don Ridge. "The expansion of the Los Angeles office is part of MPP's continuing business strategy to further support our clients by recruiting talented and experienced attorneys who will add depth to the firm's practice."
